SIERRA OUTDOOR SCHOOL

The Sierra Outdoor School is located near Sonora, California. Sonora is east of the Manteca-Modesto area in central California. Please allow enough travel time as the roads are narrow and have lots of curves. Be sure to drive carefully! (Note: they have changed the name of the facility FROM the “Regional Learning Center” TO the “Sierra Outdoor School” so you may see signs with either name)

To reach the Sierra Outdoor School, you should take Highway 120 from Manteca east to Oakdale. At Oakdale, take Highway 108 east. Continue on Highway 108 to the Sonora area. Go past the main Sonora exits and you'll come to the Hess Avenue exit. Take the Hess Avenue exit and turn left. Then, after going under the freeway, turn right at the “T” intersection, which puts you on Phoenix Lake Road. Watch your odometer and after 7 miles you'll come to an intersection where you should stay left (you'll see a sign for the Bellview Eagles School). This turn puts you on Big Hill Road.

After another 4 miles, you'll come to another small sign for the Sierra Outdoor School. Turn right onto Old Oak Ranch Road. (Caution: this turn to the right is a sharp turn and will be easy to miss unless you are watching for the sign closely – you'll also see why they call it “Big Hill” Road!) Once you are on Old Oak Ranch Road, you'll go about 2-3 miles and follow the signs for the "Sierra Outdoor School ". You'll pass the Old Oak Ranch youth camp on your left and then the road runs right into the Sierra Outdoor School.
